The dialectical journal necessitates students to use the text to create questions and inferences. The first Common Core Standard for reading literature asks students to cite textual evidence to support analysis and inferences (CCSS RL 9-10 1). If you need common core standards on the scene summary charts and dialectical journal handouts (above) to impress that special someone, here they are. RL.9-10.1 Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text. Enter the dialectical journal, also known as the dual-entry journal. A dialectical journal is a journal in which the student keeps records of their observations and reactions.
