How to Survive an RV Show and Make it a Great Experience eBook: John Huggins, Kathy Huggins: Amazon.com.au: Kindle Store
The key to our survival is good communication. There is limited room in an RV and it will start to feel small fast. If you're frustrated or angry with each other, that space will feel even smaller. And it wasn't so bad after all, even in an RV. Before it gets any colder, the time has come to protect our water lines, our systems and ourselves from freezing. Break out the flannel sheets and the hot chocolate and check out our video "How To RV in the Winter."
