Probably not; most home building projects will take less time, but some will take even more. For example, the timeline for a smaller house, with few options and less detailed finishes, which has been built many times before by professional builders, might be as short as 8 to 12 weeks. Use these schedules to describe the finish items on the project. The goal is to meet with the owners before construction starts and iron out as many of the details as possible. This will give you the luxury of time in putting in your orders. Most significantly special order or back-order items. / 21 Construction Schedule Templates in Word & Excel. ... 6 Residential Construction Schedule; ...
